

544 - The number of medals won by U.S. athletes in the Winter Olympic Games, the most by any country. Canada is next, with 496, followed by the USSR, with 495. (Source: Waterbury Republican American)

2.5 Million - The number of job openings in the U.S. in December, up 63,000 from the prior month and the first increase in three months. The gain indicates that employers are feeling more confident about the economy. (Source: U.S. Labor Department)

106.5 Million - The number of viewers for the Super Bowl this month. That total exceeded the 1983 finale of "M*A*S*H," making it the most-watched program in TV history. (Source: Nielson Co.)

61% - Sixty-one percent of Americans say it is better for the economy for the government to stay out of the housing market. That's an eight point jump from September. (Source: Rasmussen Reports)

59% - Fifty-nine percent of Americans still hold at least a somewhat favorable view of Toyota even as the embattled automaker adds at least 300,000 2010 Prius models to the eight million cars it is already recalling worldwide over safety issues. That number includes 22% with a very favorable opinion. (Source: Rasmussen Reports)
